

英语 单元测试（基础卷）

人教版高二上学期 | 姓名：_____ 得分：_____

一、单选题

1. In some cultures, maintaining direct eye contact during conversation is considered a sign of honesty and confidence. However, in others, it may be seen as disrespectful. This shows that body language can vary significantly across different _____.
A. regions
B. cultures
C. languages
D. times
2. When someone nods while speaking, they are usually indicating agreement or understanding. This action is an example of non-verbal communication through _____.
A. facial expression
B. body movement
C. gesture
D. posture
3. She walked into the room, smiling warmly and extending her hand. Her behavior was intended to create a positive first impression. The underlined phrase 'smiling warmly' functions as a(n) _____ in the sentence.
A. adverbial
B. object
C. complement
D. attribute
4. Studying body language helps us understand people better, especially when words might not fully express their true feelings. Which word best fits the blank: 'Understanding body language can help prevent misunderstandings in cross-cultural _____. '?
A. interactions
B. settings
C. exchanges
D. events
5. In many Western countries, a firm handshake is common when meeting someone new. But in some Asian cultures, bowing is preferred. This difference reflects how body language is influenced by _____.
A. personal preference